Job description summary:

The Associate Director of NPS RLT Program Support will play a key role in strategy and operations supporting product ordering, logistics and connection to other patient services. The associate is responsible for working with internal and external stakeholders (including vendors) to implement new programs and optimize current operations with the goal of delivering a quality customer and patient experience at scale. This includes designing new processes, implementing new programs/tools/resources, supporting team training efforts and assessing performance. The associate will develop data driven insights to inform key business decisions. The associate also serves as a key point of contact in the collaboration with department leadership, market access, legal, finance, and compliance colleagues.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Develop and drive adoption of enhanced customer-centric capabilities to deliver high quality support to internal and external stakeholders
- Engage with NPS RLT team to define process optimization opportunities
- Support delivery of systems and tools in partnership with IT (as well as 3rd parties) to support order management, patient access and the customer experience
- Measure and analyze key performance metrics and drive continual process improvement. Metrics includes but are not limited to: customer satisfaction, new systems/application adoption, and internal stakeholder satisfaction
- Own and resolve escalations related to customer engagement
- Lead team training efforts to ensure effective adoption of new processes and tools
- Serve as day-to-day liaison with Novartis RLT colleagues to coordinate and streamline processes across Patient Services, Finance and Customer Services. Provide regular updates to department leadership on program performance, as well as coordinate and facilitate monthly and quarterly business reviews.
- Work closely with internal and external stakeholders to ensure data exchanges and associated reporting are timely and accurate. Partner with legal and compliance teams to ensure programs are compliant and evolve as needed based on new laws / regulations with minimal or no oversight.

- Communicate to leadership key operational events as they arise to ensure effective business understanding and/or necessary coordination and adjustments
- Responsible for identifying and reporting adverse events via the established Novartis systems as per applicable processes.

Essential Requirements:

Education: Bachelor's Degree Minimum

Experience:

- Average of 3-5 of pharmaceutical industry experience to include patient access services, program management, account management or brand marketing
- Solid understanding of the healthcare environment specifically in the area delivering services to Health Care Professional and Patient customers
- Must possess analytical skills in anticipating trends and areas of risk
- Problem-solving skills to resolve issues with cross-functional team conflicts, budgetary restraints, and or other obstacles that hamper the completion or implementation of a project/roll-out
- Experience with budget management

Desirable Requirements:

- FUSE / MAP experience
- Experience working managing agency activities related to creation of assets
- Proven ability to design and implement innovative and supportive solutions for internal team and external customers
- Sales Force.com knowledge preferred
